THE Hun is on the run—there's a reason!

IN ORDER that the Hun may continue to run, the reason must continue.

WE'LL leave it to any veteran soldier of the States, if "Hun Run" doesn't beat "Bull Run" "six ways for Sunday."

OUR boys are an important part of that reason; but the folks at home should not fail to remember that in order to continue the reason for the Huns' running they must continue to furnish the means for training, equipping, feeding, and transporting that reason—the men of the U. S. Army.

WITH men like Frank B. Willis on their ticket as candidate for governor and Charles J. Thompson as a candidate for Congress, not to mention the whole list of candidates for other state and county offices, no Republican need be at loss as to how to vote next Tuesday. And Republicans who think will not be influenced by the camouflage of the Democratic Press regarding certain Republican candidates. If the Democrats express any great solicitude in regard to a Republican candidate, be sure there is a good Democratic reason, and never forget that the Ohio State Journal has about as much right to claim to be a Republican paper as a spring chicken has to have been an original inmate of Noah's Ark.

OHIO FAIR BRINGS
WAR NEAR PEOPLE

Government to Have Big War Exhibit at Coming State Exposition.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Uncle Sam to Give Buckeye Folks Fine Idea of Nation's Military Activities.

Farmers particularly will appreciate the United States Government's official war exhibit at the Ohio State Fair the last week in August. Spacious housing quarters have been reserved for the exhibit, which has been designed by Uncle Sam to bring the conflict in Europe as close as possible to Ohio people and to give them a comprehensive idea of the nation's military activities and of the true meaning of preparedness.

As this year's fair is to be strictly a win-the-war exposition, Ohio Secretary of Agriculture N. E. Shaw and Fair Manager E. V. Walborn were quick to seize the opportunity to bring the big war exhibit to Columbus. They believe it will have tremendously good effect on all who see it and will put patriotic Ohio into the war stronger than ever.

Those who have given sons to fight the battles for world democracy will find much of interest and inspiration in the exhibit, which will afford them a chance to inspect the implements of modern warfare, equipment of troops, and to see how Uncle Sam takes care of his fighting men.

A special force from the Federal Department of Agriculture and enlisted men of the army and navy will be in charge of the exhibit, to which no entrance fee will be required. The national departments of agriculture, army, navy and commerce, the food administration and the committee on public information will be represented in the exhibit.

A large showing of machine-gun equipment will feature the display of the army. The new Browning machine gun, which has created a favor in ordnance circles, will be on exhibition, as will the Lewis aircraft gun, the modern Enfield rifle and the mountain gun. There will be lay figures showing the various uniforms worn by the fighting men, and all branches of the service, including the complete uniform and personal equipment of the modern aviator.

Masks worn by the first-line trench men in counteracting poison gas will be on exhibition, and an interesting part of the signal corps display will be the showing of the sun telegraph by which, with a system of mirrors, telegraphic signals may be sent 70 miles.
Models of tents used by the army and a complete model of a base hospital, including all sorts of surgical devices, first-aid apparatus and a magnet for extracting shrapnel splinters, also will be there to attract visitors.

Young men who contemplate a naval career will find much to interest them, such as torpedoes, depth charges and exact miniature models of some of the well-known fighting ships of the navy, as well as auxiliary vessels which are required to support a modern navy in action.

The exhibit of the Department of Agriculture will embrace a profusion of maps, transparencies, samples of containers and the like, intended to inculcate ideas of food conservation and enlargement of the productivity of the land. It also will include instruments used in conducting the manifold investigations of the various bureaus of the department.

Stuffed creatures of the water will be exhibited by the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce, which will attempt to impress on the public the desirability of fish as a food. Besides, the food administration will have many lessons to present. It will have on show numerous photographs and charts, which were prepared with the view of attracting the interest of housewives and enlisting them still further in the movement which has for its slogan, "Food will win the war."

Free motion pictures, including special films on war subjects, will be shown by the government.

TO VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY

While I have not made a great stir through the Press, I am nevertheless a candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket at the primary election next Tuesday, August 13. While it has been my intention to spend a few days seeing those whom I have failed to see previously, I was overcome by the heat while helping my neighbor do his threshing, making it impossible for me to do so.
I will very much appreciate all votes that may be cast for me next Tuesday and respectfully solicit the support of all voters.

VOTE FOR EVERETT FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

I desire to direct your attention to my candidacy for prosecuting attorney at the primaries next Tuesday —an office whose importance we are apt to overlook.

My legal training was secured at the University of Michigan and I have had 22 years' experience in the active practice of law in all the courts, and have been secretary of the Republican County Central Committee for a number of years last past.

I am a candidate for this nomination on MY OWN RECORD and Judge Scott, who for six years was Common Pleas Judge of this county, says the following concerning my record:

Bryan, Ohio, July 6, 1918.
Geo. A. Everett, Atty.
Delta, Ohio.

My Dear Everett: I have been informed that you are a candidate for prosecuting attorney of Fulton county, on the Republican ticket.
The Republicans of your county will make no mistake in nominating you for that office, for during the years I was Common Pleas Judge of your county I found you well versed in the law and you were successful in the trial of your cases and are well qualified for the office of prosecuting attorney.

Yours very respectfully,
CHARLES E. SCOTT.

I was born in and have been a citizen of Fulton county all my life, and if I am nominated and elected prosecuting attorney I shall give the county my best efforts and my authority to give the county an honest, personal, impartial and economic administration of the prosecutor's office, and my experience and training fit me for so doing.

In common with the rest of the people, I have been so busy with patriotic and my daily duties wherein I might be of assistance to our boys "over there" that I have had but little opportunity to see the voters personally, and therefore take this means of bringing my candidacy to your attention.

If you have faith in me and in my judgment, I kindly solicit your support.

Yours for satisfactory service,
GEO. A. EVERETT.

JUDGE LIVE STOCK
IN NEW COLISEUM

Animals Will Be Shown In Arena of Mammoth Structure at Ohio State Fair.

HORSE SHOW THERE AT NIGHT

Evening Program Also Will Include Concert and Top-Notch Vaudeville Show.

Exhibition and judging of livestock at the Ohio State Fair, the last week in August, promises to be more of an attraction this year than ever before.
The judging is to be conducted in the arena of the mammoth new Coliseum, where 6,000 persons may find seating accommodations.

Fair visitors this year will have their first opportunity of seeing the completed Coliseum, which had not been finished at the time of the exposition last year. It is a colossal and magnificent structure and is excellently suited to the purpose of showing and exhibiting livestock.

The fancy animals that are out to capture the premium money at the fair will be led into the large arena before the judges. As there will be ample seating room for all interested in the livestock events, spectators are certain to be delighted with the comforts the Coliseum will provide.

Livestock is always one of the big features of the Ohio fair. It will be so this year more than ever in the past because of the war-time importance of the nation's domestic animals.
The Ohio fair boasts the largest and finest sheep show in the United States.
With unprecedented prices for wool and mutton, Ohio sheep growers are more active than ever before, and the best in Buckeye sheepdom may be expected at the exposition.

Each year there has been growing interest in the exhibition of horses and a corresponding increase in the wide range of quality of these animals. The premiums and special horse events for this year indicate an exceptional offering in this department. The swine, cattle and poultry classes, indications point, will be complete with an abundance of high-class animals.

The Coliseum also will be the scene of a horse show nightly. In charge of Donald R. Acklin, of Perrysburg, an expert in conducting horse shows, this part of the fair program bids fair to be one of the most attractive.

Horse shows are growing in popularity in Ohio, and as the one at the fair this year will be open only to Ohio animals, general interest in it will be increased greatly. Prizes offered in this department amount to $3,910. The judges will be Mat Cohen, Louisville, Ky., saddle horses and ponies, and Captain Walter Palmer, Ottawa, Ill., roadsters, hunters and jumpers.

The horse show will be opened with a concert by the Seventy-first Regiment Band, of New York, which will be followed with a vaudeville entertainment, including the famous Albertina Rascha Company of 14 ballet dancers, which has just closed a long engagement at the New York Hippodrome.

STATE FAIR PREMIUMS
AMOUNT TO $67,674

Twenty Per Cent Will Be Paid
In War Savings Stamps.

Premiums offered in connection with the Ohio State Fair this year total $67,674—a record. Steady growth of the fair, greatly increased interest in high-class livestock, the desire to attract better exhibits and increased expenses of exhibitors necessitated larger premiums. It is declared. The premium total last year was $46,230.25.

In increasing the premium money this year, the fair management also took advantage of another opportunity to help Uncle Sam win the war.
Twenty per cent of the premium money at this year's fair, the last week in August, will be paid in war-savings stamps. This means that $13,534.90 of the premium money has been placed at the disposal of the Government.

Early entries by exhibitors. It is said, indicate that probably all records will be smashed for the number and quality of exhibits this year.

Prizes For Farm Products.
For farm products this year, the Ohio State Fair is offering premiums of $5,087, and an additional $2,050 for county exhibits of the same. Bees and honey have not been overlooked and in this department $204 in prizes is offered.

SCHOOL SAMMIES IN
W. S. STAMP EFFORT

Pave Way to Lair of Hun by Sale of Baby Bonds.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—"Every War Savings Stamp sold is a step toward victory, it paves the way for the soldiers on the road to Berlin."

With this suggestion to the boys and girls of Ohio, the educational division of the Ohio War Savings committee has designated the week of July 22 to 27 as School Sammy Victory Week. During this period a great rally of the boys and girls is called, when three definite aims are laid before them "for a great effort to aid Uncle Sam in making safe their lives and their happiness."

These objectives are:
"The enlistment of every patriotic boy and girl in the School Sammy Army of Ohio."

"The effort of every member, new or old, to win a general's rank by the sale of War Savings Stamps."

"A real test of the efficiency of this army of volunteer workers against the Hun."

Rank of general in the School Sammy Army comes with the sale of 1,000 War Savings Stamps. On attaining this rank, the Sammy will be given a bronze pin designating the title.

"Opportunity is now offered boys and girls, too young to fight, chance to earn the undying gratitude of the great, noblest by doing what they can, in their own way, to back up the line of heroes who are fighting their country's battles," the state committee declares. "Their task is just as honorable, their work as fruitful, for if the enemy of money fails the line in France will fail, too."

Do not cry out against the terrors of thrift as long as the men in the trenches do not cry out against their hardships. Consider yourself lucky to be able to save and to by War Savings Stamps.
